ABOUT US JNTUH HYDERABAD

JNTUH College of Engineering was established as Nagarjuna Sagar Engineering College in 1965 and became a constituent college of Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University on 2nd October 1972. From its inception in 1965 till 1984, the college was located at Masab Tank Campus and shifted to its permanent location at Kukatpally, in an 85 acres site about 20 km from the heart of the city on Bombay National Highway (NH-9). The college celebrated its Silver Jubilee in 1990 and became autonomous in the year 2001. In 2008, after the University was divided into four separate entities, the college was renamed as JNTUH College of Engineering and retained as a constituent college of the JNTUH.

The activities of the College are basically supported by the budgetary allocation from university funds and specific grants from UGC, AICTE & DST.
