

I, Mohammed Abdul Wasay working as Microsoft ERP Specialist, Madaf Trading & Contracting Co., Riyadh, Saudi Arabia having enrolled and successfully completed a Certificate Course of 'Data Science with Python Programming' which was offered and conducted by SCDE, JNTUH Online.

Since it was my first instance of an online teaching, I was little sceptical as to how it would be effective in learning remotely concepts that were new to me. An excellent program, well designed hovering around major areas AI like Machine Learning, Deep Learning & Big Data.

To develop the skills of Data Science a good mix of professional faculties and experienced Industry people were engaged from time to time. Most importantly, I would highly appreciate the faculty who have very well explained the Concepts & guided us very patiently clear enough to understand subject matter easily. The pace of teaching and course duration was well balanced. That is the very reason it helped me easily to understand the core concepts of Data science & Machine Learning and I gained a good understanding of the concepts simply. The Course provided us hands-on experience while it helped me to develop a strong base in the domain of Data Science.

Good thing of this course is that it was planned and implemented in a way where students from different background can easily understand and practically learn to apply the Concepts.

Being a working person, and that too away from India in a different time zone, the session timings and the schedule was very well outlined for student's availability and ease of attending.

Assignments for each module were given in between sessions to help us to apply the concepts that were taught to us. LMS portal was very helpful for us to get course contents, books and assignments as well to view video recordings of the classes since it helped us in solving the assignments and also covering the missed part of the sessions. At the end we had to submit a Project that was required as part of the Course that gave us an opportunity to apply practical knowledge of what we learned and gained during the sessions.

I thank the whole team of SCDE, JNTUH from the bottom of my heart for organizing this program very well.

Regards,
